DINING OUT IN CHICAGO: A BREEZY HISTORY FROM BEAUBIEN'S TAVERN TO TASTING MENUS

Saturday, March 18 – 10 to 11 a.m.
Lincoln Park Branch

Over the past 170 years or so, Chicagoans have dined out in a myriad of settings. Indoors, outdoors, on a roof, next to the Chicago River and in former packinghouses have been a few of the locations that have played host to a range of repasts.

Chicago historian and urbanologist Max Grinnell will take patrons on a “tour-du-table” utilizing rare photographs, historic photographs, visual ephemera and his own sage observations from over two decades of dining out in Chicago, from Army & Lou's to the late, great Como Inn.
