

Age-Friendly Chicago

The Age-Friendly Chicago Community Survey was answered by 2,601 older adults representing all 77 community areas within the city. Women made up 71% of respondents, and men 29%. The survey was available in Chinese, English, Polish, and Spanish languages, in paper and online formats.

Caucasian (57%) African-American (24%) Hispanic (8%) Asian (7%) Other (4%)

Race and Ethnicity

Under 64 (30%) 65-74 (44%) Over 75 (26%)

Age

67% own their residence

15% are caregivers

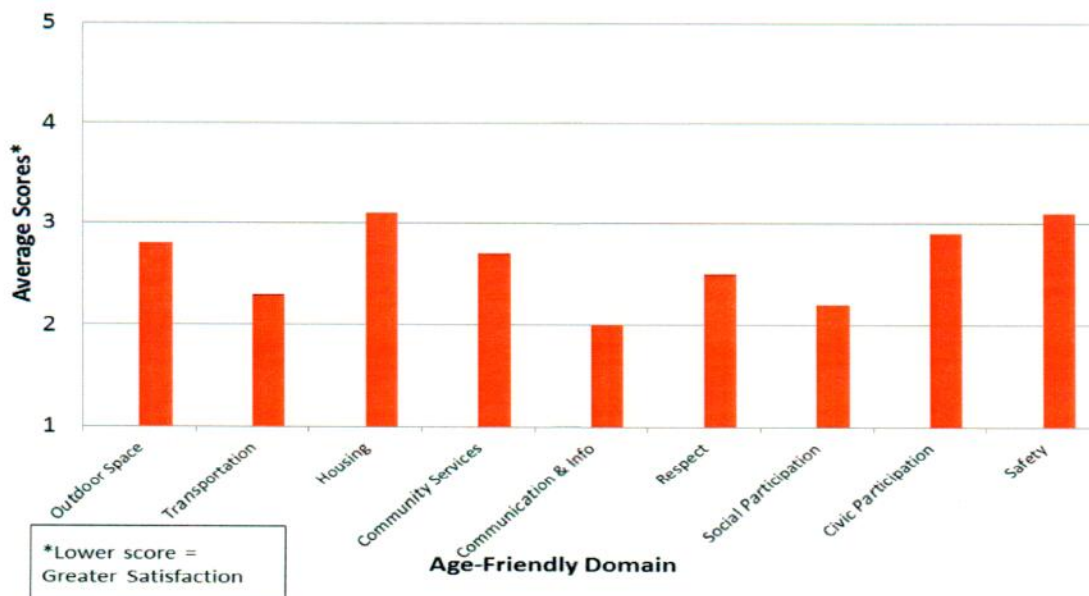

50% live alone

27% reported feeling isolated in the past year

Average Age-Friendly Scores

Age-Friendly Chicago

What makes our city unique?

75% of respondents agree or strongly agree there are green spaces in easy walking distance

83% of respondents agree or strongly agree bus stops are conveniently located

91% of respondents say their homes are warm enough in the winter

75% of respondents agree or strongly agree there are social networks in their neighborhood

76% of respondents agree or strongly agree that social, religious, and cultural activities are available and affordable

83% of respondents agree or strongly agree they know what to do in case of a health-related emergency

81% of respondents agree or strongly agree there are places for them to access free computers, internet, and wifi

79% of respondents agree or strongly agree there are opportunities to participate in activities that help physical well-being

The City of Chicago works to support its citizens in good health and quality of life as they age