

National Staff Development and Training Association

Career Achievement - an Individual Award

Submission due: August 14, 2024

Criteria:

1. Demonstrated throughout his/her career a commitment to the profession of human services training, organizational development, workforce development and/or staff development; and/or significant contributions to the profession in terms of leadership, new ideas, or education. As measured by improved agency outcomes, impact on human services training, or improvement in best practices at a local, state or national level; and/or service in a variety of leadership roles; and/or excellence and professionalism in the human services sector.
2. Individuals who have contributed to the profession in any training, organizational development, workforce development or management position may be nominated for this award.
3. The nomination packet should include documentation of the person's impact within human services training and/or organizational or workforce development for public sector human services agencies. Evaluation, cost savings, advancement of agency outcomes documentation, if applicable, should be included in the nomination packet.
4. NSDTA Executive Advisory Council members may not be nominated.

As some nominees may qualify for both Career Achievement and Distinguished Service in Training awards, you may indicate on the Nomination Form that you wish for an individual to be considered for both awards. You only need to submit one nomination packet. Be sure to address ALL the criteria listed for both awards.

Award Nomination Instructions:

- 1. Complete the Award Nomination Form at www.nsdtaconference.com
- 2. In addition to the electronic Nomination Form, these items may be submitted through email (if preferred):
 - Abstract to demonstrate how the program /agency meets the award criteria. This supports the overview of contributions listed above.
 - Additional Supporting Information

Award winners will be honored at the NSTDA Annual Education Conference in Albuquerque, New Mexico on October 20-23, 2024.

Winners for each Award will be offered one full registration fee waiver.

No travel costs or per diem expenses will be paid by NSDTA for the Quality, Distinguished Service in Training, Technology Innovation or Career Achievement Award winners.

Award submissions and Questions: Jen Kerr at jkerr@aphsa.org