Intent for the Event

The Economic Mobility and Well-Being conference brings together three affinity groups of the American Public Human Services Association (APHSA) – American Association of SNAP Directors (AASD), National Association for Program Information and Performance Measurement (NAPIPM), and National Association of TANF Administrators (NASTA).

The purpose of the event is to elevate best practices, peer-to-peer learning opportunities, and member collaboration through content which will assist health and human services leaders and policy makers shape the future of human services programs to create a modern, responsive health and human services system.

Intent for the Call for Proposals

Visit the EMWB Conference page for up-to-date details and announcements.

We are now accepting proposals for the Economic Mobility & Well-Being Conference (EMWB), being held August 14-17, 2022, at the Marriott Savannah Riverfront in Savannah, GA. We encourage content from state and local government agencies as well as allied human-serving organizations (i.e., researchers, advocates, organizations focused broadly on related issues including such as education, aging, and more).

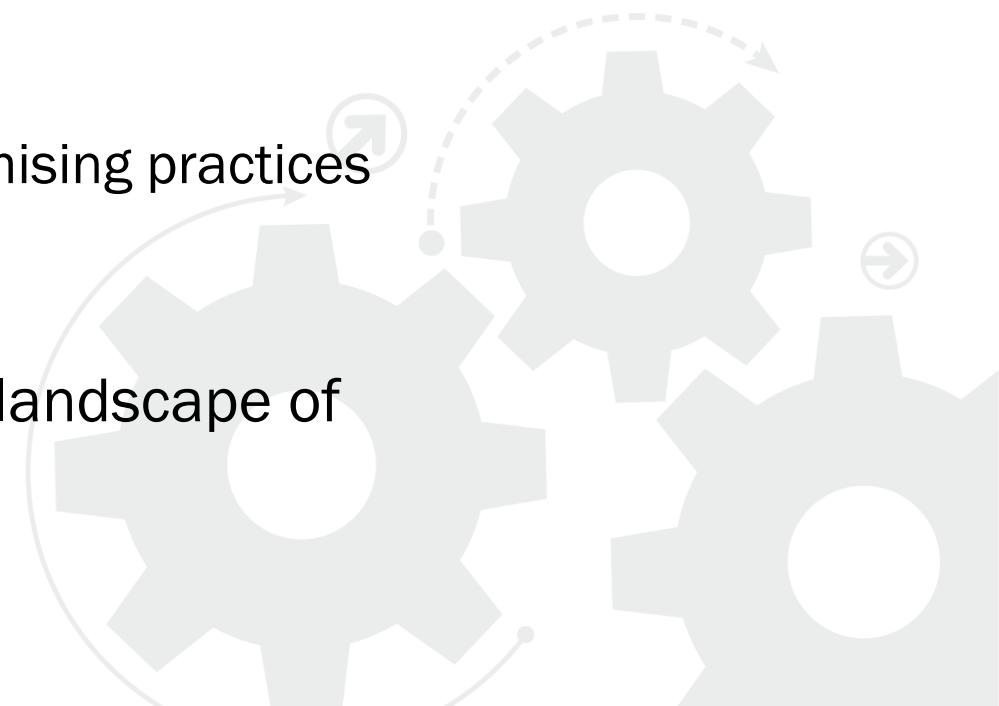

The types of sessions we are looking for:

- Interactive presentations
- Panel presentations with a collaboration of thought leaders, policymakers, practitioners, and/or researchers.

APHSA and its members are committed to advancing race equity. Content addressing structural inequities in our systems and root causes of racial disparities through policy and practice are strongly encouraged.

Information on Session Topics

- Within the topic categories on slide 6, the EMWB Conference is interested in proposals that have practical application to advance human services policy and practice related to economic mobility and child and family well-being through economic supports such as SNAP, TANF, and Quality Control.
- The proposal should address
 - best cross-sector, evidence-based, innovative, or promising practices
 - important foundational content
- The content being offered should reflect the current landscape of agencies and the communities they serve.

Topics	Your Session Could Include Information on the Below, but Note That This is Not an Exhaustive List
Aligning Systems to Support Well-Being	Best practices and lessons learned working across programs, systems, and funding streams to create whole family, person-centered experiences through modern approaches to align economic and family supports.
Dismantling Structural Inequities in Human Services	Approaches to advancing equity in human services through changes in policy, practice, organizational culture, and community engagement. Best practices in trauma-informed approaches to supporting and engaging people with lived expertise.
Operational Excellence	Strategies to maximize performance management, measurement, integrity, and improvement through corrective action and quality control.
Tackling Benefit Cliffs to Help Families Succeed for Long-Term	Examining policies, practices, and service delivery models to ensure families receive economic supports that leave them better off as they pursue their path towards economic mobility.
The Future of Human Services Administration	Using lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic response to reimagine approaches to workforce well-being, program flexibilities, community engagement, disaster preparedness, and quality control.
Using Data and Evidence to Improve Outcomes	Leveraging qualitative data and evidence, including the lived expertise of people receiving services, and quantitative performance management data to strengthen effective program implementation and customer service.
