

Island Ad-Vantages

PERSISTENT DROUGHT:
The effects felt across
our communities

PAGE 6

SEPTEMBER 18, 2025

IN THE TRADITION OF WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS SINCE 1882

islandadvantages.com | $1.89

Published by Penobscot Bay
Press Community
Information
Services

207-367-2200
207-374-2341
penobscotbaypress.com

VOL. 95 NO. 38

Island
Ad-Vantages

BY LAURA SCHAEFER

Sugarloafers enjoy Stonington

On September 9 to 11, 60 members of the Carrabassett Valley Outdoor Association arrived in Stonington (many for the very first time) via cars, trucks, campers, power and sail boats. Members stayed at the hotels, Pilgrim's Inn, Greenlaw's Campground, VRBO's and with summer Stonington friends. Perfect weather prevailed as members went boating, kayaking, sailing, hiking, played golf and tennis; they shopped, dined, visited the Quarry, Isle au Haut and Nervous Nellies, all the while experiencing the best of Stonington and beyond. The Deer Isle Music Hall and BBQ hosted a private event on Tuesday. After a day filled with outdoor activities, a backyard cookout was held at the home of Michael and Jeannette Parker, organizers of the event and members of the club.

