

FGFOA Member Spotlight: Anna Otiniano Anna Otiniano, CGFO, is the Finance Director for the City of Plantation, where she has served for over 20 years. In her role, she oversees the City's financial operations, including budgeting, accounting, financial reporting, and long-term fiscal planning. As a Certified Government Finance Officer, Anna is committed to upholding the highest standards of public financial management, transparency, and accountability. In addition to her work with the City, she serves as a Director on the board of directors of the Florida Government Finance Officers Association, contributing to the advancement of best practices in government finance across the state.

---

A Reflection on My FGFOA Journey

My journey with FGFOA has been an important and rewarding part of my professional career. Over the years, FGFOA has provided me with a strong network of peers, mentors, and colleagues who share a commitment to excellence in government finance. Through its conferences, training programs, and leadership opportunities, the organization has created a supportive environment that encourages continuous learning and professional growth. FGFOA has not only enhanced my technical knowledge but has also reinforced the importance of collaboration, ethics, and public service in our profession.

---

How FGFOA Has Shaped My Career

FGFOA has played a significant role in shaping my career by exposing me to best practices, emerging trends, and practical solutions to real-world challenges faced by local governments. The organization has helped strengthen my leadership skills, broaden my perspective, and build confidence in navigating complex financial issues. The relationships I have developed through FGFOA have been invaluable, providing guidance, support, and inspiration throughout my 20 years with the City of Plantation.

---

What I Am Most Passionate About in FGFOA

One of the aspects of FGFOA that I am most passionate about is its professional development and certification initiatives, particularly the CGFO program. The program challenged me to expand my knowledge and reinforced a strong foundation in public finance principles. Serving on FGFOA committees and as a director has also been especially meaningful, allowing me to give back to the organization, contribute to strategic direction, and support the next generation of government finance professionals. These experiences have been both personally fulfilling and professionally enriching.