

CARPC WELCOMES NEW GIS SPECIALIST

Please join us in welcoming Matt Noone as the Capital Area Regional Planning Commission's new GIS Specialist. Matt received his Masters of Science in Forest Resources from the University of Maine in 2010 where he used satellite imagery to monitor forest harvesting throughout the state and examined drivers behind timber harvesting forces. Since then, Matt has worked for Institute for Natural Resources at Oregon State University as a Remote Sensing Analyst and more recently he was the GIS Scientist at the Forest Landscape and Ecology Lab at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Matt is excited to join the CARPC team.
