

Edythe the house goat.

Edythe is owned by Jeanine Vassar. Edythe works in the office next door (other side of Jeanine's basement).

Jeanine is the local system manager for Infant & Toddler Connection of Goochland Powhatan. Goochland Powhatan is a rural/suburban system just west of the Richmond area, so some of their families live in planned neighborhoods with curbs and sidewalks while others have a pig asleep on the porch half the time, blocking the door.

Edythe fits in with the rural crowd, though living in the basement lately, she fancies herself a suburban house-goat. She's recovering from a leg injury but hopes to rejoin the herd outside soon, especially her mom and twin sister.
