Barbara Kancelbaum

Barbara Kancelbaum is the VP of Marketing and Communications at Henry Street Settlement. She has more than 25 years of experience working as a writer, editor, and communications strategist in the social services, health care, higher education, and environment sectors. Prior to Henry Street, her consulting clients included New York University Colleges of Nursing and Dentistry, Arcus Foundation, Literacy Partners, Columbia and Cardozo Law Schools, and Health & Disability Advocates. Previously, she was the communications director of the U.S. office of Doctors Without Borders/Médecins Sans Frontières. Barbara serves on the board of the Reproductive Health Access Project and was the organization's chair from 2007 to 2013. She holds a master's degree in journalism from Columbia University and lives in Brooklyn.