

The Colchester Giving Garden is ready to begin its ninth growing season. The garden is an all-volunteer run vegetable garden that grows and donates fresh vegetables to our town food bank and local soup kitchens. We are always excited to welcome new volunteers to help at the garden. All are welcome. No gardening experience needed, just enthusiasm to help others!!!

Why not try something new and come join in at the Giving Garden?? For more information and to get on our email list please write to the garden at colchestergivinggarden@gmail.com. Hope to see you soon.
