Facts on Youth Trafficking

MSRP's study, of 641 young people interviewed

Human Traffickers Specifically Target Houseless Youth

Research done by the Covenant House found that Human Traffickers lure youth in by the promise of food, shelter, love and protection.

20%

Out of the 1.5 million children and youth that has been serviced, 20% of them have been trafficked.

The Act of Coercion

Most Human Traffickers will use psychological manipulation with houseless youth. When this happens, most youth will believe and develop emotional attachments to their trafficker. Traffickers will also use tactics like drugs, withholding important documents (i.e. ID. birth certificates, etc.), and isolation to keep victim's dependent on them.

University Of Michigan Human Trafficking Clinic
