

From the Desk of EGSA Conference Planning Committee Chair, Martin Morrill

The Conference Planning Committee meeting is “the” place to be if you want to have fun while contributing to continuously improving our speaker slates at EGSA Conferences. Expect spirited debate in determining the theme for our next conference in Nashville (be thinking ahead). As a reminder, the person that comes up with the theme that is selected for Nashville will be awarded $100 CASH.

At this Spring Conference, we will be honored to have Lou Holtz as our Keynote speaker on Monday, clearly setting the bar very high for subsequent meetings. Thanks to member suggestions we continue to have an exceptional line-up of guest and member speakers who educate, inspire and entertain our membership. We need your input in order to keep this momentum going. Let us know if there is a topic of interest you would like to see presented or if you have an idea for a professional speaker. Maybe you’ve gone to other meetings or conferences, unrelated to EGSA and saw an inspiring speaker? Come to our meeting and let us know.

Member companies who want to share information: you now have two speaker formats to choose from Our traditional 45 minute time slot and a 20 minute “ted-talk” style format. As always be sure to fill out the conference evaluation forms. Your input is the most important part of what helps us determine the conference theme, solicit speakers and presentation content.

Thank you, and see you in Albuquerque!
