

From the Desk of EGSA Education Committee Chair, Richard Knittel

The EGSA Education Committee will be meeting at the Spring Conference in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The conference theme this year is “Lighting the Dark Desert Highway.” The Education Committee needs your voice, opinions, and ideas to make us a better organization.

We have a long history of accomplishments that contribute to our industry in positive and meaningful ways. We spearheaded the EGSA Technician Certification program, the On-site Power Generation Reference Book, and the George Rowley School of On-site Power Generation.

The recently formed Load Bank Certification committee is a spinoff of this group. We are also embarking on a power generation sales certification program and are looking for volunteers. Our online learning program is taking off and we will be accepting sponsors for our various classes.

To me, the heart and soul, the change makers, the definers of the organization, are the Education Committee members. If you want to be a part of something that has a genuine impact on the profession, come join us. You will be welcome with open arms!
