

Vincent Serpico: A prominent figure in Arizona's tech community for nearly 25 years, Vincent Serpico has worn many hats, from developer to VP of Development, to CTO. His entrepreneurial spirit has led him to found multiple startups, raise capital, and actively participate as an angel investor. Vincent's unique ability to bridge the gap between business and technology has been a driving force in his career, resulting in the creation of over 150 software applications. His multifaceted experience and profound understanding of both the technical and business landscapes make him a respected and influential presence in the industry.