

Amy, an Arizona Certified Legal Document Preparer, brings a cool and dynamic element to the construction industry. Her ability to forge relationships and create an open dialogue with clients and partners has been a vital asset to our team. She brings over 20 years experience offering a variety of services to businesses, but has found her calling in legal document preparing for construction.

During Amy's time in the industry, she has volunteered a significant amount of time to educational programs, fundraising opportunities, and apprenticeship involvement with various construction associations in the region. Her passion for construction lien law is only dwarfed by her overwhelming desire to serve the industry that she works with.
