

THE B.I.R.T.H. INITIATIVE

BUILDING INTERPROFESSIONAL RESOURCES FOR TRANSFORMING HEALTH

The Center for Interprofessional Innovation and the Program in Public Health are teaming up to offer students the opportunity to collaborate on projects promoting equity in maternal and child health.

Supported by a Presidential Mini-Grant, this initiative brings together students, faculty, and providers across professions to learn, collaborate, and make an impact.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- Learn fundamentals of interprofessional teamwork
- Explore birthing traditions & maternal/child health outcomes
- Build cultural humility & awareness
- Work with your team to plan & deliver an educational project for the SBU community

PARTICIPANT BENEFITS

- Attend at least one session and receive a Certificate of Participation
- Attend all four sessions and:
 - Co-author a poster presentation (presented at spring symposium)
 - Eligible to earn the Excellence in Interprofessional Collaboration Digital Badge (Credly)

IN PERSON SESSION DATES

- October 28, 2025 | 3PM–5PM
- November 20, 2025 | 3PM–5PM
- February 10, 2026 | 3PM–5PM
- March 10, 2026 | 3PM–5PM

FOOD PROVIDED TO IN PERSON ATTENDEES

Zoom Available By Request

APPLY BY OCTOBER 10

Please fill out the Google Form to assess your eligibility and note your availability.

Stony Brook
Program in Public Health

Stony Brook
Medicine

Center for Interprofessional Innovation