MENOMINEE INDIAN TRIBE OF WISCONSIN

MEDICAL MARIJUANA REGISTRATION CARD INSTRUCTIONS

Criteria to be issued a Medical Registration Card:

Updated profile with Member Services[1]
Age of 18 or older at the date of application[2]
Enrolled Menominee status[3] OR Registered Descendant as shown on the Menominee Descendant Registry[4]
A signed statement that the applicant has a Qualifying Condition.[5]

Instructions to Apply:

Make sure all information is current and up to date with Member Services. Complete the attached form to register for a Medical Registration Card. This application form will need to be filled out in its entirety and given to Member Services staff where the form will be filed with strict confidentiality.

Veteran's status will be documented by DD-214, a valid VA ID card, or a valid Wisconsin Veteran's License.

For Caregivers to apply for a Medical Registration Card on behalf of a patient, fill out the Caregiver section on the Application Form. Caregivers must provide acceptable documentation stating they are authorized to make medical decisions on behalf of the patient.[6]

The form will be reviewed and at that point either approved or denied. All fees must be paid before a license is issued.[7] Approved applications must be paid by cash, check, or debit/credit card.

In the event that the tribal member or descendant does not qualify for the Medical Registration Card, Member Services will provide notification to the applicant explaining why the Medical Registration Card was denied. Denied applicants may reapply at any time at which point their disqualifying issue is rectified.

Photo of the applicant will be taken for the Medical Registration Card. Medical Registration Card is valid for one year after issuance.

MEDICAL REGISTRATION CARD IS NOT VALID OUTSIDE THE BOUNDARIES OF THE MENOMINEE INDIAN RESERVATION.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT MEDICAL MARIJUANA REGISTRATION CARDS

Please read this information carefully and contact MITW Member Services if you have any questions.

What does it mean to have a Medical Marijuana Registration Card?
Having a Medical Marijuana Registration Card means that under Tribal law you may lawfully possess medical cannabis products within the boundaries of the Menominee Indian Reservation. The card also means you may, under Tribal law, possess and consume medical cannabis. In other words, you will not be prosecuted by the MITW Tribal government for possession of medical cannabis so long as you are possessing it in accordance with Tribal law. Please remember, however, that the possession and use of cannabis is still illegal under Federal law and Wisconsin state law. A Medical Marijuana Registration Card does not prevent or act as a defense to prosecution by the Federal or State government law enforcement authorities.

Where does MITW Tribal law on medical marijuana apply?
The Tribe's laws on medical cannabis only apply on the Menominee Indian Reservation.

How long is a Medical Marijuana Registration Card valid?
One (1) year from the date of issuance.

Does a Medical Marijuana Registration Card allow me to take medical marijuana off of Tribal land?
No. Marijuana is still illegal under the Federal and Wisconsin law.

Does a Medical Marijuana Registration Card allow me to grow marijuana?
No. Cultivation, manufacture, and sale of marijuana is prohibited under Tribal law.

What about medical marijuana and my health conditions?
MITW does not practice medicine or provide medical advice. Please contact your doctor or medical care provider if you have questions about how cannabis could affect your health or interact with your other medications.

Does a Medical Marijuana Registration Card allow me to possess marijuana at my workplace if that is prohibited by my employer?
No. Possession of a Medical Marijuana Registration Card is not a defense against, and does not modify the policies of an employer regarding possession of marijuana on the premises.

Does a Medical Marijuana Registration Card allow me to be under the influence of marijuana at my workplace if that is prohibited by my employer?
No. Possession of a Medical Marijuana Registration Card is not a defense against, and does not modify the policies of an employer regarding working under the influence of marijuana.

Does a Medical Marijuana Registration Card allow me to possess and use marijuana in my home if my lease prohibits such possession or use?
No. Possession or use of a Medical Marijuana Registration Card is not a defense against, and does not modify the requirements of a lease.

What about medical marijuana and driving?
A Medical Marijuana Registration Card is not permission to consume marijuana and drive. Do not consume marijuana and operate a motor vehicle or any other dangerous equipment. A medical marijuana patient card is not a defense to impaired driving.

Can I sell or give my medical marijuana to someone else?
No. You are not allowed to sell or give medical marijuana to anyone.

Is MITW responsible for my medical cannabis use?
No. You are obligated to use your Medical Marijuana Registration Card in accordance with the Menominee Tribal Code and all other applicable Tribal laws.
