Working together to end child
homelessness in Utah

Sign the pledge to help reduce child homelessness

The Coalition of Religious Communities is asking clergy, congregations, community organizations, candidates and elected officials in Salt Lake County to sign the Pledge to help reduce child homelessness. If you are willing to sign the form please enter information about yourself and any organization or group you represent below. You can see the pledge for Salt Lake County here. We are developing a pledge for Weber County and would love to create one for other parts of Utah if people are willing to help collect signatures.

We will be posting a list of individuals and organizations that have signed the pledge soon and will be adding names all year.

Have you signed the pledge to help reduce child homelessness?

Follow up from CORC Meetings last week in Salt Lake and Weber Counties

Our quarterly meetings for Salt Lake County and Weber County took place last week and both were both very productive week and both were both very productive.

Salt Lake County Council Member Shireen Ghorbani discussing housing policy at CORC's meeting on April 2, 2019.

Salt Lake County Council Member Shireen Ghorbani came to our Salt Lake County meeting and talked to us about issues of housing and homelessness. We were surprised and delighted when she volunteered to ask the other members of the County Council to adopt a resolution supporting our brand new Pledge to help reduce child homelessness.

At our quarterly meeting for Ogden we had a serious conversation about how we can work together to raise issues of housing and homelessness in the municipal elections in Ogden. This conversation was so energetic that we planned a follow up meeting for next month on May 30th at 2 PM at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, located at 2374 Grant Ave. Ogden, UT 84401

We are very grateful First Baptist Church was willing to host our meeting in Salt Lake and that Trinity Presbyterian Church was willing to host our meeting in Ogden and for all of the amazing people who came and participated in both meetings.
