Thank you so much to the people who went to the Capitol last week and helped convince 17 legislators to sign the Pledge to help reduce child homelessness

This photo includes six of the ten wonderful people who went to the Capitol last week to talk to legislators about the Pledge to help reduce child homelessness in caucus meetings. People who are willing to show up and find common ground with others make this world a better place. We will be posting a list of elected officials and candidates who have signed the Pledge soon.

Sign the pledge to help reduce child homelessness!
