

Meet the crew: Ross Cummings

Race Liaison

I first learned to sail in college, then life took over. I didn't sail again until our kids got into their teens and we'd rent sailboats once or twice a year. Five years ago, Beth and I decided to buy our own boat. After a season on Lake Erie we found PCC .

PCC is everything we were looking for – a sailing support system with friendly, knowledgeable people, and a fun social club.

After the club hooked me on racing, I am now the Porch Rats coordinator for Wednesday's race night dinners.

I have completed ASA training from basic through bareboat charter.
