FLAG DAY
FRIDAY, JUNE 14TH

The right side of the image shows a silhouette of a man and a child standing together against a vibrant sunset or sunrise sky. The sky is filled with warm orange, yellow, and red hues, with darker blue at the top. The man is on the right, and the child is on the left, holding his hand.
