

Public Health Grant Management 101: Implementation, Monitoring, and Compliance

This second session of the Public Health Grant Management 101 series focuses on practical implementation and compliance, including monitoring expenditures, tracking deliverables, maintaining documentation, and preparing for audits. Grounded in 2 CFR 200, the training emphasizes internal controls, records retention, and proactive risk management tailored to local and tribal public health practice. It is recommended that participants have attended the Foundations session or view the training recording prior to attending this session.

Training Objectives:

- Monitor grant expenditures, deliverables, and performance requirements
- Use practical tools to track budgets, documentation, and reporting
- Identify common compliance risks and strategies to address them
- Assess organizational readiness for grant compliance and sustainability
- Integrate grant reporting and compliance into routine program operations
