

Lloyd Melvin Nelson – Associate Degree, 1959

A lifelong educator, Lloyd currently serves on the WCJC Foundation and previously served on the WCJC Board of Trustees.

After his time at WCJC, Lloyd earned a bachelor's degree from Sam Houston State University, a master's of education degree from the University of Texas and a master's degree in administrative education from the University of Houston.

Lloyd spent 30 years as a school administrator, including having held a superintendent position. He credits his time at WCJC as setting him on the right path.

Both of his children also attended WCJC.

“The advantages of attending WCJC are numerous,” he says. “Cost of attending is a bargain, the quality of instruction is top-notch and who wouldn’t want to attend the No. 1 community college in Texas?”
