*A message from Chancellor
Franklin D. Gilliam, Jr.*

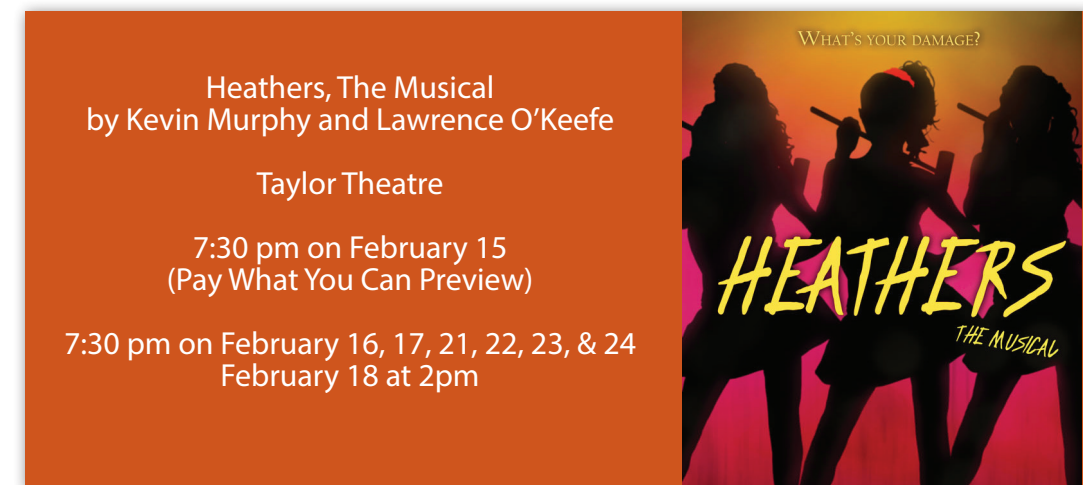

Welcome to another incredible season of world class performances, exhibitions and creative endeavors at UNC Greensboro!

As our university continues to take Giant Steps forward, it is only fitting that our incredibly talented College of Visual and Performing Arts (CVPA) faculty and students play a leading role as we step proudly, boldly into the spotlight.

Throughout this year, the best and brightest at UNCG will be on display in presentations of music, theater, visual arts and other unique exhibitions. We will bring world class performers, thinkers and lecturers to our campus and our community. And we will continue to amplify and elevate the role of UNC Greensboro as a catalyst for creating a truly vibrant community here in the Triad.

Our CVPA calendar is packed with treasures -- major events and smaller gems -- and I hope you will take the time this year to join us, to support us, and to sample in the incredible array of talents and opportunities we are able to bring to our community.
