

Jeannie Yandel started at KUOW as an intern in 2001. Since then, she's produced nearly every show out of KUOW, and has won local and national awards for her reporting and interviewing. Now she's an editor with KUOW's podcast team, and co-hosts the podcast Battle Tactics For Your Sexist Workplace. Outside work, Jeannie ran and emceed Seattle's first and longest-running first-person storytelling series, and hosts Seattle's beloved adolescent diary-reading show, Salon of Shame. She also loses arguments daily to her terrifyingly smart, stubborn 6-year old daughter.

Eula Scott Bynoe is a full-time Black Woman Parent Partner who created Hella Black Hella Seattle, the first local podcast of its kind, in 2016. She is the co-host of Battle Tactics for your Sexist Workplace, and yes, your workplace is sexist. Eula is a new mother to Livingston Tyree Scott Bynoe whom she birthed in her home on international day of peace 2017. She credits her confidence to birth at home to her training as a doula and childbirth educator. Eula was born and raised in Seattle's culture capital, the Central District, to organizers, and above all workers. She sees her role in this world as one of community builder, party starter and sister to all who can see her humanity.
