The main focus is to educate and familiarize mom, dad, and kids on their rules and responsibilities for evacuating their vehicle from an imminent threat while maintaining a positive flow of clear communication in good decision-making within the family unit.

This six-hour two-part course will cover how to safely manipulate late ones' firearms and engage threats while family members are in the vehicle. Additionally, students will be taught how to communicate with each other as they attempt to exit the vehicle and move in a safe direction away from a threat.
