

Lancaster Interagency Coordinating Council (LICC)
A New Resource: Check Out the Virtual Resource Fair

To benefit parents/caregivers and families of young children across Lancaster County

A Sneak Preview:

WHAT: Opportunity to connect virtually with families and service providers to learn about local community resources representing disability services, health and wellness, education, behavioral health, recreational activities, crisis intervention, kids’ activities, community/social services and more!
Check out the videos, access the flyers and brochures, link to web sites – and so much more!

WHO: The Lancaster Interagency Coordinating Council (LICC) is a robust network of parents and providers involved with Early Intervention/Early Childhood and Early Learning services for infants, toddlers, preschoolers, and their families. Through the engagement of parents, community agencies, early childhood and early learning partners, families, advocates, and government officials, the LICC works to ensure that young children across Lancaster County, especially those with disabilities and developmental delays, have access to supports, services, and resources that help them develop and grow to reach their fullest potential.
