

FROM THE SHEPHERD'S HEART

Someone may accuse us of taking a “baby step” when we have only adults resuming their Bible Classes this Sunday—not pre-school, children, or youth. We should understand that resuming worship for the whole family under the rules laid down by the government is quite a challenge. Be confident that we will get there in a while. In the meantime, we know that the Sunday School relationships are where we connect with each other. Your leadership wants to give room for these relationships to be nurtured by meeting together. We believe this will happen for some this Sunday.

But as soon as we get a green light from the Lord and from the powers that be, we will be in our full schedule. Until then, we will “hope in God.” He alone can make it all happen.

What a joy to serve among you!
