A recent cold spell in the Golden Isles will give way early next week to more average temperatures as area residents prepare for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Temperatures tonight will dip down into the upper 40s for parts of St. Simons and Jekyll islands, while Brunswick—particularly residents more inland near Interstate 95—will see the mercury drop to the upper 30s, according to Kip Bricker, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Jacksonville, Fla.

"Because the ocean has more heat content, you see warmer temperatures, that warms the coastline a little bit, so you have rising temperatures," Bricker said.

There is a 30 percent chance of rain Sunday, though the rest of the next few days are forecast to be dry.

"For the most part, we're expecting it to be fairly dry," he said. "Sometimes with high pressure centers moving north and northeast, we have onshore flow and moisture coming in over the area. That's the 30 percent chance (of rain)."

The cool days recently have been about 10 degrees below the average high temperatures for November in Brunswick. Those average days are set to return today and last most of the week, with highs in the low 70s and lows in the low 50s. The average high temperature for November in Brunswick is 72 degrees; the low is 52.

"Often in early November, you can still get warming events because you're still kind of trending

Defendant gets 40 years for attempted murder

By WES WOLFE

A man convicted by a Glynn County jury of attempted murder — among other crimes — received his sentence Friday before Superior Court Judge Roger Lane.

Garron Keon Campbell, 32, was found guilty Oct. 31 of attempted murder, two counts of aggravated assault and two counts of possession of a firearm during commission of a felony. He was ordered to serve 40 years in prison, as a result.

According to testimony and other evidence presented during Campbell's trial, the problem began with an argument between Campbell and Frank Murray. Campbell's girlfriend lived at a residence behind Murray's, and Murray was upset with Campbell's girlfriend's dog coming into his yard and posing a potential threat to his family.

Testimony as to what actually happened during this argument differed considerably from witness to witness. Multiple people saw and heard the argument, and were involved to varying degrees. According to some reports, Campbell threatened Murray and told Murray to Google him, ostensibly to see news accounts of previous violent crimes.

Campbell's girlfriend, Yoshequa Jordan, said Murray made violent

THANKSGIVING TRADITION

Frederica Academy first-graders take part in Thanksgiving program

The Thanksgiving holiday comes with a number of traditions to enjoy.

Frederica Academy's first-grade families have a tradition of their own that the school has celebrated for many years. Every November, just before Thanksgiving, the school's first-grade class puts on a program at Epworth by the Sea, much to the delight of their teachers, parents and grandparents.

The first-graders emerged from their school bus Friday morning dressed as Pilgrims and Wampanoag Native Americans. Parents, bundled up against the cool November air, beamed as their students read their lines, sang Thanksgiving songs and recited Bible verses.

"It is so sweet. It just makes me love this school even more," said Bethany Vann,

Cyclist trekking across world brings positivity on Isles stop

By BUDDY HUGHES

On May 27, 2004, Somen Debnath left the village of Basanti in the Indian state of West Bengal on a mission. Debnath wanted to cycle around the world and through 14-plus years, his undertaking had taken him through 24 countries in Asia, 45 countries in Asia and 52 in Africa.

On Thursday, it brought him through Brunswick, where he met with the Isles' Indian community. He also spent some time in Kingsland.

"I have been traveling around the world for 14 years," Debnath said. "I'm doing it for HIV/AIDS awareness and promoting peace and Indian culture. I'm trying to connect the world."

He was inspired to make his journey when he was 14 years old after reading in a newspaper about a man who had died from the disease.

"What was AIDS, that was my first question," Debnath said. "I went to a schoolteacher who couldn't explain it to me. Then I decided I wanted to know about HIV and AIDS and bring this message to society."

Once Debnath reached the Western Hemisphere, he started in Antarctica and worked his way north through South America and into Central America. A few months ago, he entered the United States through Texas and has visited New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

He's currently working his way up the East Coast toward Boston. He'll hit Montreal and Toronto in Canada before coming back to the
