

National Honor Society Invocation
Reese Brown

Dear Heavenly Father, we are gathered here today to honor those who have honored you through their service, leadership, and scholastic endeavors. We pray that those being inducted will uphold the values of the National Honor Society by never ceasing to be servant leaders. It is also our request that they never stop glorifying you in their work ethic and desire to assist those in need. Thank you for keeping both this island and the mainland safe from the potential devastations of Hurricane Irma, and we also pray you protect us from anymore that may form. Be with those who will be leaving here today as they return to work or the home, please keep them safe in their travels. Last of all Lord we thank you for being our father up above who cares about us even though we fail you every day. We ask all these things in your name Lord, Amen.
