Wendell Historical Society Presents

The Martin Family of Eastern Wake County

If you really want to understand the history of a town, you only have to follow the story of those who lived there.

Join us as we trace the footsteps of the Martin Family all the way from the banks of the River Ouse in England to a sawmill business in the tall pine forests of Eagle Rock, North Carolina.

Along the way, learn about their impact on our community, local historic landmarks (Lake Myra), the origins of familiar road names (Martin Pond Rd) and connections to current residents.
