

HIRING: FULL TIME CLEANING MASTER ON-SITE HOUSING INCLUDED

About Us

Malheur Field Station is a nonprofit campus tucked away in the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge. We host nature-lovers, birders, school groups, and people who seek the darkest night skies.

We're small, yet mighty, mission-driven, and incredibly grateful to the people who keep this place running smoothly.

About the Role

We're searching for someone who doesn't just clean—they take pride, joy, and maybe even spiritual satisfaction in making things shine. If your friends joke that you clean for fun... if you've ever said "I'll just tidy a little" and suddenly it's three hours later and the baseboards sparkle—this might be your calling.

As our Cleaning Master, you will be the keeper of cleanliness across guest lodging, classrooms, restrooms, and shared buildings.

This position requires living on-site, and comes with housing and utilities included. You'll also jump in to help our maintenance technician on projects like painting or minor repairs—nothing scary, just the satisfying stuff.

Who You Are

- Someone who genuinely enjoys cleaning (we're not judging—we think it's a superpower).

- Positive, flexible, and willing to help out wherever needed.
- Able to lift, carry, bend, and handle the physical demands of cleaning.
- Someone who finds satisfaction in making the world a little tidier.
