Bio – Bruce Pollock – Managing Partner – B & C Storage

I was introduced to the storage industry through my involvement in Syrasoft, a provider of management software. While working there as a side business we built two buildings with 35 spaces in Camillus. At the time I was also working full time as a high school math teacher. Four years later I left my full-time job and began to focus on developing and constructing storage facilities. Our company B & C Storage currently operates twenty facilities in the Syracuse area with approximately 4000 spaces. We have mainly focused on ground up construction but have also made some acquisitions with expansion opportunities as well as a couple of warehouse conversion projects.
