

Stormy Buckley, Legal Secretary with Petrusha Law, has nominated The RAVEN Project, a program of Redwood Community Action Agency, to receive this month's $1,000 donation as part of the firm's "10 Years, \$10,000 Thanks" campaign.

Stormy shares: "I chose The RAVEN Project because it supports at-risk youth by providing basic commodities that many who grow up in stable environments might take for granted – such as showers, clean clothes, food, and more. Most importantly, it provides a safe space away from potentially unhealthy or dangerous home situations. Navigating the world is challenging for any young person, and even more so for those who start out at a disadvantage. This program can make a big difference in the lives of the young people who benefit from its services."

The RAVEN Project is a youth-led street outreach program and drop-in center serving individuals aged 16 to 24. A program of Redwood Community Action Agency's Youth Service Bureau, the RAVEN Project provides resources, referrals, advocacy, housing subsidies and support, and positive role models for at-risk youth in Humboldt County. Its drop-in center offers laundry, showers, a clothing closet, case management, survival kits, and employment assistance.

Founding attorney Angela Petrusha added: "The work that The RAVEN Project does for at-risk youth is truly invaluable. Providing a safe space and essential resources can change the trajectory of a young person's life, and I'm honored to support this mission. If you'd like to contribute, send your donation referencing #10Y10K to: RCAA - Youth Service Bureau, 904 G Street, Eureka, CA 95501 or drop it by our office in Henderson Center."
