

Gigi Ostrowsky serves as an Education Programs Consultant with the California Department of Education, focusing on early childhood special education. She began her career as a preschool special education teacher and Board Certified Behavior Analyst, and went on to hold district and special education local plan area (SELPA) leadership roles overseeing special education programs, assessment centers, and multidisciplinary teams. With over 20 years of experience across classroom, district, SELPA, and state systems, Gigi leads policy development, statewide initiatives, and technical assistance to advance outcomes for infants, toddlers, and preschool students with disabilities.
