

Kalyn Farris is the Board President for CaliforniaSibs, the California chapter of the national Sibling Leadership Network. She grew up as the sister to Jonathan, who lived with intellectual and physical disabilities following treatment for a brain tumor in early childhood. After Jonathan passed when they were in their 20s, Kalyn joined the Sib movement as a way to process her grief, understand how her childhood affected her adulthood, and support the tenacious Sibs that need their voice amplified. Professionally, Kalyn leads organization effectiveness for a large healthcare system, where her Sib skills of understanding systems and creating function from dysfunction shine.
