

Marcy Okada
Transitions and Partnerships Section Chief
Department of Developmental Services

Marcy Okada is the Chief of the Transitions and Partnerships Section at the Department of Developmental Services (DDS). Marcy oversees programs and initiatives for children and youth ages 3-22 years old, focusing on childhood transitions and inclusion for individuals receiving regional center services.

Marcy has 17 years of experience working with individuals with developmental disabilities. Prior to joining DDS, she was a special education teacher and community service provider. She holds a bachelor's degree in English, an Education Specialist teaching credential, and a master's degree in special education.