

Paola Conte

Associate Director of Assessment, Research, and Special Projects

As the Associate Director of Assessment, Research, and Special Projects, Paola integrates experience in organizational change with management and communication to mold data into meaningful reports and to distill research into practical applications and training. Her goal is to develop an inclusive workplace where diversity is a necessary condition to understand one's identity and to innovate. More recently, her doctoral coursework in organizational communication enriched her repertoire of qualitative and quantitative methods of investigation, which she started to explore in her MPA coursework.
