Greenlee Endorses Meshawn Maddock for MI GOP Chair

Calls for Party Unity

Lansing, MI - Today Scott Greenlee formally ended his campaign for Chairman of the Michigan Republican Party and endorsed Meshawn Maddock.

Greenlee will be traveling to Washington DC this week to discuss in more detail how to unite the party and ensure there is full time, competent leadership for Republicans in Michigan. He released the following statement.

"A multi-candidate race is unpredictable on the convention floor. I feel strongly that we need to continue the success we had with Pete Hoekstra as Chairman and not go back to the chaotic days of the past.

I have known Meshawn a long time and am confident she has the experience and ability to lead the party. She will be able to maximize the assistance we get from President Trump, his donors, and his team. I have always been a team player and am proud to put loyalty to party over self. I know this is the right thing to do for our party, state, and country.

Effectively running the state party is a full-time job and requires a united team. I look forward to working closely with Michigan Republicans, the White House, and the RNC to restore the Mackinac Conference to its former glory, elect Republicans up and down the ticket from the US Senate to the Governor's office, retake the State Senate, maintain and increase our State House majority, and to win at the local levels of government.

I encourage the other candidates to also put party over self-ambition and consider uniting the party behind President Trump in advance of the convention. Together, we can and will win everything for Michigan in 2026."
