

The CHAMBER

ALLEGANY COUNTY, MD

Executive Director

This month, I would like to focus attention on the Local Business Showcase. This event has seen a variety of changes over the years. On October 20, 2021 from 4:30 pm-7:30 pm at Rocky Gap Casino Resort, we will feature a variety of businesses and organizations that will display their products, programs and services to attendees. The event is free and open to the public. While this is not a job fair, it is a chance to learn more about what each does. Understanding existing businesses in our community is a great way for entrepreneurs to know the climate, challenges, and opportunities, and when the community at large knows what we have to offer, it breeds positivity. One new feature for this year is the addition of a virtual showcase that will allow for direct online access to all our participating businesses and organizations from the day of the event throughout the next year. Take a look in our feature in this newsletter to see all of our Platinum and Gold sponsors for the event and visit our event page on Facebook. Thank you to Seth Sgaggero, Sgaggero Event Planning, LLC who has served as Chair for the event, and to our committee that has been instrumental in the planning and execution of making this come together. Please encourage friends, family, and employees to attend as this will also serve as our monthly After Hours. There are several other programs and events coming up. Mark your calendars for Wednesday, October 27 at 4pm for a virtual

HR Workshop with Charlotte Clark from IBM. The workshop will provide details concerning employee/employer rights, legalities, and unemployment. More information will be coming soon.

We continue to make decisions regarding in-person events and programs by closely monitoring health trends and we will determine the status of the Business Recognition Dinner very soon. In the meantime, mark your calendars for that on Tuesday, November 9. This will be the case with our Annual Meeting (Thursday, December 2) and Holiday Reception (Thursday, December 9) as well. Announcements will come to confirm these dates once we feel we can make that decision.

Finally, please welcome the newest member of our team, Ms. Tina McElfish, Administrative Assistant. We will be working over the next few weeks to acclimate her to the work of the Chamber and many of you will have an opportunity to meet her through committee involvement and will see her at After Hours and other upcoming events.

Since its founding in 1853, Sheppard Pratt has remained true to its mission of ‘improving the quality of life of individuals and families by compassionately serving their mental health, addiction, special education and community support needs.’ For those individuals, there is no greater need than securing meaningful employment as a first step toward living their best lives with dignity.

Enter Sheppard Pratt’s Community Employment Program (CEP), a service that helps individuals whose careers were put on hold or interrupted due to disability or other life-changing events find fulfilling, long-term employment. The Community Employment Program is built on the core value that all persons have the right and ability to obtain paid community-based employment.

Community Employment utilizes the Individual Placement and Support (IPS) model of supported employment, which produces better outcomes than more traditional vocational models. “We’re very proud of our program,” says Lauren Krach, vocational program director at Sheppard Pratt. “Utilizing the IPS principles, we have had remarkable success placing deserving individuals in rewarding jobs.”

The Sheppard Pratt Community Employment Program welcomes partnerships with local employers to assist with their hiring needs – screening, job matching and training. The program is also looking to collaborate with behavioral health agencies in the greater Allegany County area to facilitate referrals and provide supported employment services to individuals looking for competitive employment in their community.

Ribbon Cutting Ceremony The Salvation Army Red Shield Club powered by Boys and Girls Club of America

The Allegany County Chamber of Commerce recently held a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony for The Salvation Army to celebrate the grand opening of their Red Shield Club (Boys and Girls Club). For over 50 years The Salvation Army Boys & Girls Clubs have been unique places created by The Salvation Army that offer programs and services that exemplify and actively practice Christian principles. This is done in a way that causes recipients of their services to learn to admire the values, ethics and skills presented, and incorporate them into their own lives. To reach today's young people and their families in a non-threatening way, their Clubs create an accepting, positive and challenging environment where young people of every background, circumstance, race, creed and religion feel welcomed. Clubs offers children and youth an opportunity to interact with their peers in a structured and supervised environment. The

Celebrates 115th Birthday

The Allegany County Chamber of Commerce proudly celebrated our 115th birthday in April. Throughout 2021, each month, we are providing our members with interesting tidbits of Chamber history. Last month's newsletter showcased a program of work for 1965 by Chamber President Walter Dyck, PPG Industries.

With the Chamber hosting their Local Business Showcase this month at Rocky Gap Casino Resort on October 20th it seemed appropriate for this month's birthday celebration article to look back to February of 1952 when the Chamber approved a proposal from Mr. Goodloe Jackson to adopt an Industrial Exposition as their major program for the year. Mr. Jackson chaired the committee which was comprised of members Edmund S. Burke, Kelly Springfield, Miles Thompson, Thompson Buick, George Schwarzenbach, Schwarzenbach and Son, Simon Rosenbaum, Rosenbaum Bros., Earle Cobey, Attorney, Edgar Vandergrift and George Millen. The Industrial Exposition was assigned a budget of $40,000.00 and committees were created: Exhibit Committee, Publicity and Advertising Committee, Parade Committee, Pageant Committee, Football Committee, Parking and Traffic and Finance Committee.

After months and months of planning the Industrial Exposition opened on October 16, 1952, at the Maryland National Guard Armory. Maryland Governor Theodore R. McKeldin cut the ribbon at 2:30 pm to kick off the event, which was open to the public. The Industrial Exposition was a three-day event and consisted of exhibits by local and regional industries, a fashion show, a parade (five sections made up of 80 units), the Industrial Bowl football game between the University of West Virginia and Washington and Lee University held at Fort Hill Stadium played before 10,000 fans. The exposition ended with a semi formal dance at the Cumberland Lodge 63 B.P. O. Elks with Russ Romero's Orchestra of Pittsburgh, PA playing and included the crowning of Miss Lorraine Sager as Queen of the Exhibition (she was also Miss Western Maryland).

An official souvenir booklet was prepared by Celanese Corporation of America, entitled "A look at the assets of the Cumberland Area" and "A Blue Print for the Future" was published in the Cumberland Sunday Times prior to the event on October 12, 1952. Articles from that publication were provided as a courtesy from the Collection of Albert L. Feldstein.

The publication stated, "Cumberland this week is taking a giant stride in the right direction – a step forward, chin up, shoulders straight, helping itself along the road to a bright future." For many months citizen morale was very low due to the fact that the city had been publicized as being a distressed area. To help combat the low morale the Chamber of Commerce created the Greater Cumberland Industrial Exposition to help the area look to the future instead of casting backwards. The Times and Alleganian Company stated they were "glad of the opportunity to issue this special section with a plan for the future, purposely verging on the fantastic in parts but also furnishing a base to work from on the foundation that is Cumberland. There is a brighter outlook for Cumberland today if for no other reason than that we are all working together optimistically. Cumberland is a good town. Let's prove it to the world."

"A Blue Print for the Future" also included an article written by Manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce Anthony Saeli. "The Greater Cumberland Industrial Exposition marks a turning point in the history of the Cumberland Area. It is also a milestone in the history of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. A year ago, the Exposition would not have been possible. Neither the area nor the Chamber had the will to undertake it. The Exposition thus symbolizes the dawn of a new era. It marks the end of three years of doubt and uncertainty. It is the forerunner of bigger and better things for the Cumberland area. No undertaking better typifies the aims and objectives of the Chamber of Commerce than the Greater Cumberland Industrial Exposition. None better illustrates how the Chamber of Commerce operates. To many persons, a Chamber of Commerce is something abstract – a room, a place or a thing. Actually, a Chamber of Commerce is people ...people doing things ...good things ...good for themselves and good for their community. A Chamber of Commerce may be simply defined as an organization of businessmen who realize that they can accomplish greater good collectively than they can individually and so have joined together to promote the welfare of their community. It is also a civic agency devoted to the welfare of the entire community. There is no conflict in these two principles. In the Chamber's view, whatever is good for the community as a whole is also good for business. Hence the Chamber does not speak only on behalf of the business and industry, it speaks on behalf of all of Cumberland. The Chamber believes that Cumberland's destiny must be determined by Cumberland – not by the uncorrelated efforts of a few, but by the joint efforts of many persons working together in a unified and coordinated program for civic progress. Such a program requires leadership and it is the first responsibility of the Chamber to provide that leadership. It shall seek, as always, to cultivate the industrial, commercial and financial resources of the community, for without these, there can be no community development. But it shall also give full accent to all those civic, social, and cultural activities which help to build and maintain a happy, progressive community. It shall therefore be the constant aim of the Chamber to seek to insure the community's economic stability and, at the same time, by so doing, to strengthen its civic and social structure. Loyalty and leadership are essential to a city's vitality. Both come together in the Chamber of Commerce. It is the Chamber's hope that it will become the rallying point – the medium through which all persons may unite on behalf of better living in a better city". This philosophy still holds true today.

Be sure to check in next month as we explore other endeavors the Chamber of Commerce has been actively engaged in. Stay tuned!!

LEADERSHIP Allegany! Alumni SPOTLIGHT

Jennifer Howell

The Leadership *Allegany! Alumni Committee is proud to “spotlight” a Leadership *Allegany! alum quarterly in the Chamber e-newsletter. The alumni member is asked to answer a few questions about how their personal and/or professional life has been impacted by their Leadership *Allegany! experience.

The Leadership *Allegany! Alumni Spotlight series this quarter highlights the Class of 2015 and we are proud to introduce you to class member Jennifer Howell.

What is your current role/title?

Jennifer Howell
Human Resources Manager
Cintas

What is your favorite memory from your Leadership Allegany! experience?

It is hard to pick just one favorite memory – there were so many from my experience, from riding the Scenic Railroad train to Frostburg on a gorgeous fall day, to speed-dating with local government officials, to driving around in a golf cart during the day of our class projects’ Golf Tournament, to meeting the Governor for a memorable photo op with my class in Annapolis. My favorite memory from my Leadership *Allegany! experience is probably from graduation night, sitting around the table with some of my classmates, watching the photos from the year pass by on the slide show, and belly-lauding with them about some of the adventures from the year. That was the last time we were all together, but it was a wonderful moment in time.

What advice would you have for future Leadership Allegany! members?

Don’t be overwhelmed by the amount of information coming at you during the topic days. You are going to hear from a flurry of speakers and panels on numerous topics and it can feel like information overload. Just sit back and try to soak in as much as you can. The program is meant to give you a taste of what is out there and to inspire you to come back for more. As you learn and listen, think about how what you are learning relates to you, your personal experiences, and your professional role in your organization. Think about how you can translate what you have learned back into your professional and personal life. Go back after the topic day ends and learn some more! Go watch that play at the Cumberland Theatre, attend that City Council meeting, volunteer at the Food Bank! You have the power in you to make such a positive difference in your community by learning more about yourself, the Chamber, your classmates, the people in your community, and the businesses and organizations in our state and local area. You have an incredible and once-in-a-life time opportunity in front of you.

How did Leadership Allegany! impact you professionally or personally?

Leadership Allegany! tremendously impacted me both professionally and personally in a positive way. I told everyone (who would listen?) in my personal and professional circles about the experience and how excited and passionate I was about the program. I joined the Steering Committee following my graduation in 2015 to continue to be a part of the experience. It was eye-opening to see how the volunteer committee carefully crafts and plans every day for the class; they carefully monitor current events, legislation, hot-button topics, and class feedback to plan the topic days. As someone who grew up in the local area, I thought that I knew a lot about the region, but the experience was eye-opening. I now understand better how businesses, organizations, local governments work together to provide the framework for how we do business and live. I have made invaluable contacts that have lasted over the last six years and have been given opportunities through those relationships that I probably wouldn’t have had without them. The program also benefited the organization I worked for by helping me to talk to others about what it was, what it did, and what resources and products it had to help the community and their business. I was also inspired to go back and explore more of what I learned during the topic days with co-workers, friends, and family. I took my children to visit the Allegany Museum during the holidays to see their enormous collection of nutcrackers. I took my daughter to see a traveling Russian ballet company perform Swan Lake at FSU’s Performing Arts Center. I knew who to contact locally when I had questions and concerns. In summary, this is an amazing experience that will impact each and every class member in a different way, but ultimately for the better. Enjoy!

Tell us something about yourself that others may be surprised to know about you.

I used to travel extensively when I worked for a publishing company in Bethesda as my first professional job out of college. In fact, I traveled so much at one time I put my things in storage and lived completely out of hotel rooms for several years. I was able to visit all 50 states during that time in my life and had the opportunity to visit Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa regularly. I even got to hold a baby lion on Safari!
