

Dr. Marc Feuerbach began his teaching career at Gordon Central High School where he was a special education teacher, and later he was appointed assistant principal. In 2010, he was named principal of Ashworth Middle School and became Calhoun Elementary School's principal three years later. Marc served as principal at Cartersville High School from July 2014 – June 2018 before serving in his current role as superintendent.

Born and raised in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Marc obtained his bachelor's degree in history from the University of Florida, his master's degree from Kennesaw State University, his specialist degree from Georgia College and State University, and his doctorate from Valdosta State University.

He and his wife, Rebekah, have two children, Will and Addie. He enjoys spending time outside and being with his wife and children when he is not working. He and his family attend Cartersville First Baptist Church. An avid fan of leadership-focused material and experiences, Marc enjoyed his participation in Leadership Bartow in 2020. Currently, he serves as Chair of the Cartersville-Bartow Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. He also serves on the Board of Trustees for Advocates for Children. Marc received the 2022 President's Award from the Georgia School Superintendents Association, of which he has been a member for six years. He has also been a member of Cartersville Rotary Club for ten years and the Professional Association of Georgia Educators for seventeen years.
