Hayko Bagdat

In his commitment to the truth, Hayko Bagdat has set himself two goals: to help the disadvantaged without being beholden to anyone, and to carry out all activities– be it writing for newspapers, producing radio and television programs, posting columns on the Internet, composing articles for magazines or communicating with the public on stage– with the utmost sincerity.

In the one year he has spent in Berlin, in addition to his performances of Salyangoz (The Snail), he has participated in various events as a speaker and panelist, produced several programs for the Internet television station Ozgurus (We Are Free), and continued to present his program “Bagdat Café” during the German election campaign on Deutsche Welle Turkce.

His is currently working on a new book about the difficulties he has faced on his European adventure so far. Hayko Bagdat, for whom the state of Turkey recently issued an arrest warrant, continues on his socialist path for the democratization of his country and against the swelling tide of fascism and racism worldwide.

He is married and has two children
