

Be Kind -- Be Happy

A New Documentary Series

What People Do to Be Kind or How Others Have Been Kind to Them
What Makes Individuals Happy and How They Make Others Happy

Opportunities for Investors

This is an opportunity to be part of a new documentary series. One film Be Kind is on the importance of kindness and what individuals do to be kind to others and what others have done to be kind to them. In addition, we will be filming a second documentary on what makes people happy and what they do to make others happy. We feel these topics are especially important now to contribute to the healing process in America, as well as around the world, given the divisiveness in society and the ravages caused by the pandemic and shut-downs in society.

These films are part of a series of documentaries: The New Age of Aging (distributed by Factory Film Studio; Me, My Dog, and I and Rescue Me (distributed by Random Media); and The Courage to Continue (just completed with distribute TBA). This will be our 11th and 12th film projects, and to celebrate our growing number of films, we were exhibitors at the 2020 American Film Market, which was produced virtually this year.

Each film will feature interviews with about 20 individuals and 5 or 6 experts, including psychologists, counselors, consultants, and coaches, who advise individuals on kindness and happiness.

We plan to film in January 21 in the Los Angeles Area, where one of the director/producer Co-Producer partners of Changemakers Productions is based.

We have already raised $10,000 for the film. Now we are looking for 2 to 3 more investors to put in $2000 to $7500 for our remaining $22,000 budget for one film, $32,000 for both films, since we can do the second film for only about 50% more if we film them together. An investment of $4000 or more can include a Sponsorship, where we can feature you, your company, service, or product if it fits our film's message of being kind or being happy. In that case, we will work out a scene with you and provide you with a clip you can use for your website or publicity. We will include you in the credits and in our national PR for the film.

As an investor, you will receive back your investment plus 20% from the first moneys we receive. Then you will share in the proceeds based on your percentage share of the return to investors, which is 50%; the producers' share is the other 50%. You can additionally be a sponsor if you want to be featured in one or both films, and you can additionally get an edited clip of your segment.

The arrangements for investors are the following:

$2000 to be an Associate Producer in one film, $3000 in both.

$4000 to be a Co-Producer in one film; $6000 in both

(includes a sponsorship with a short introduction to your company, product, or service)

$5000 to be an Executive Producer in one film; $7500 in both

(includes a sponsorship with a short introduction to your company, product, or service.

plus a clip of your segment.

We are open to an even larger investment to support our films, and you will receive even more special recognition in the films.

We can also arrange for special screenings of the film for your organization.

We hope you will be interested in being one of our investors. Please call for additional information.
