Bring your used clothing to McKinley and together we can find new life for old clothes and create a better earth for everyone.

Better Earth Textile Recycling (BETR) is a green, for-profit organization working to reduce textile waste by finding new life for old clothes. Through community programs, fund drives, and other innovative collection efforts, we bring unwanted clothing, belts, shoes and other textiles to people in need around the world. By putting these discarded items back in the use cycle, we keep them out of landfills.
