

A young girl with long brown hair, smiling, holding a painting of two ducks on a blue background. The painting is on a small canvas or board. She is standing in front of a bookshelf filled with books.

Coraline Mann, a sixth grader at Crossroads Academy in Lyme, won Best in Show for New Hampshire in the 2023 National Junior Duck Stamp Art Contest held by the US Fish & Wildlife Service. Coraline's submission, an acrylic painting of long-tailed Ducks, will be part of a traveling exhibit with Best in Show honorees from across the country. HANDOUT PHOTO