To Saxe Gotha,

I wanted to take the time to let you know how thankful Lexington County Community Mental Health Center is for your support of our clients. The outreach program you've offered to us year after year has impacted our clients around the Christmas season. Most of our clients have minimal support and interaction with family/ friends. Our clients would not receive a gift during the holidays without you. Christmas is difficult for many. It is a time of reflection that may be painful and lonely. The gifts you've provided have met more than just a tangible need. They have provided our clients with the idea that someone is thinking about them and that they have not been forgotten. This is a powerful notion that impacts them past the holiday season. I have been present when some of my clients opened their gifts. Some have opened with tears, others big smiles but each have opened a gift with hope and each received the message that they are loved. Thank you for being a part of that message. Running this type of program represent countless hours of effort and coordination by many at Saxe Gotha. Please be reassured that we are grateful, our clients are thankful, and know that you are truly making a difference.

Sincerely,

Billie Stroud, LPC
