BCTF the UK's unique 'made in Britain' trade fair for the home and gift industry.

The British Craft Trade Fair has a reputation with buyers and exhibitors for high quality British hand-made products, and is supported by the Giftware Association, the National Jewellers' Association ACID and much of the Home and Gift trade press.

After 44 years BCTF remains a thought provoking, cutting edge trade fair taking place in the award-winning exhibition hall that sets the scene for the UK's largest and most inspirational buyer event.

What could you expect from your visit to BCTF 2019:

Exhibitors are all hand selected for the quality and authenticity of their products and are ready to supply trade orders. Many exhibitors showcase new product lines and collections, so you can be sure that you will be first to see the latest in top British innovation and design.

2019 marks the second year of our new Post-Newcomer Gallery, featuring newcomers from previous years so you can see how their work has developed.

An exhibition of very talented exhibitors covering 4 specific retail sectors, design-led giftware, home interiors, jewellery and fashion, greetings and stationery, BCTF is without doubt the exhibition leader in its field and not to be missed if you are buying for 2019!

The April dateline makes it an ideal time to source new product for the summer and autumn.

Ian Retallick author of David and Goliath: How Independent Retailers Can Take on the Giants and Win, will be speaking in the seminar room on Tuesday 9th at 12.30 pm all buyers are welcome.
