VOICE Has Opportunities for Community Activism

To build on our success last fall with increasing voter participation in underserved precincts, VOICE (Virginians Organized for Interfaith Community Engagement) leaders will be knocking on doors of public housing units the next two weekends in light of the upcoming Virginia primaries. VOICE is committed to nonpartisanship, but we act on the principle that government support tends to follow voting power. There's power in numbers: Can you help us out? There will be multiple shifts on Saturday and Sunday of May 19, 20, 26 & 27. Join us for the kick-off rally on Saturday the 19. For more information, contact Jeremy at jeremy.mcclayton.iaf@gmail.com or Connie at cbdesrosiers@gmail.com.

Another opportunity for making a difference in the lives of immigrant kids will be our VOICE Dreamer Action at the Arlington School Board Meeting, Thursday, May 31, 6 p.m., Syphax Education Center, 2110 Washington Blvd. We want to pack the house and will have speakers in favor of the recommendations from the Working Group on Safety and Rights of Immigrant Families in APS. This group, (initiated by VOICE and Dream Project, and reporting directly to the school superintendent) includes VOICE and Dream Project leaders, school principals and administrators in APS. For more information, contact Patricia Findikoglu at patfindikoglu@gmail.com or Kate Trygstad at kate@creativefacilitating.com.

VOICE would also like to offer deep gratitude for the generous donations given by UUCA members and friends on our Give the Plate Sundays. Your contributions will go a long way toward our goal of bringing justice to our community. Thank You!
