Amy Shepherd (new)

Amy has been a UUCA member for 12 years, and has been involved in a variety of volunteer positions, including as an usher, greeter, Goodwin House volunteer, RE teacher, member of the Chalice Theater Steering Committee, and most recently as a member of the Voices United Community Choir. Apart from her involvement with UUCA, Amy enjoys spending time with her husband Dave and her three children Fiona (14), Max (9) and Beckett (9). Amy is very excited and honored for the opportunity to transition from serving as UUCA Board Secretary to a member of the Board of Trustees.

Bruce Rieder (new)

Bruce is retired from a career in private sector real estate development with a short stint in Public Housing at the Department of HUD at the end of his career. During his career he worked extensively on organizing new condominium governance structures and served on several condominium Boards of Directors as a developer appointed member. He also was elected to serve on two condominium boards in his own right as a resident of those communities. Bruce and his husband Peter have attended UUCA for 10 years. During that time he has served on and helped coordinate the Sunday Welcome Desk, worked on annual giving and chaired that work for 3 years, and currently serves as a member of the Governance Task Force appointed by the Board. Hieu Nguyen (renomination for another term)

Hieu became a member of UUCA in 2016 but has been attending since 2012. He has taught third grade and preschool Religious Education and is involved with the Dad's Group, experiences that have helped him connect with fellow congregants as well as start finding his place at UUCA. Hieu's interest in serving on the UUCA Board stems from his desire to work with congregants to create a community that encourages members to engage with one another and the church as well as enhance UUCA's welcoming environment for inquiring friends. Hieu works in public relations in the healthcare industry. Hieu lives with his wife, Colleen (also a member of UUCA), his two daughters, Abigail and Emily. He has lived in many parts of the country – from the Pacific Northwest to Texas to the Northeast – and has called Arlington home for the past decade.

Irv Lachow (new)

Irv Lachow has been a member of UUCA since 2006. He and his wife Stefanie joined the church so that their kids could begin the RE program in first grade. After lurking quietly in the shadows for quite a while, Irv began to get more involved a few years ago. He began by teaching RE and then got involved in Covenant Groups. In the last couple of years, Irv has found great pleasure and meaning in supporting UUCA by joining the Search Committee for the Interim Assistant Minister, becoming a Lay Pastoral Care Associate, serving as a Worship Associate, and working with the Advisory Committee for Walter Clark. Outside of the church, Irv is a strategist and manager at The MITRE Corporation—a not-for-profit systems engineering company that provides advice to governments around the world. He enjoys spending time with family and friends, listening to music, reading, traveling, eating good food, and playing outside.

Board of Trustees (2019-2020)

Linda Lutes Corsoro (new)

Linda came to Arlington and UUCA in 2004 looking for community and a spiritual home; she's found both. Covenant Group experiences have cemented her relationships with UUCA as a participant, facilitator, or member of the Covenant Group Steering Team. Linda currently coordinates the Flower Ministry Team and sacred arts projects to feed her soul. She regularly uses her professional experience in local, state, and Federal government both behind-the-scenes and as a leader (e.g., Service Auction Team, DIG Team, Social Justice) and calls herself a policy wonk. She believes this is the right time for her to work for and with the congregation using her experience and talents to build and nurture a transparent governing structure that can energize UUCA today and build community and spiritual homes for the future.

Our Board of Trustee candidates join Al Himes, Janice Morris, and Linda Battaglini who are serving 2018-2020 terms.
