The Center for Educational Rights is excited to host this FREE seminar for educators!

Presenters Kaitlyn McEowen, Board Certified Music Therapist candidate, & Bessie Barth, MT-BC, Owner and Director of Music to Grow On, Music Therapy Services, Inc., currently work in Sacramento-area schools providing music therapy for students with disabilities. This informative session will address common questions about music therapy, such as:

- What exactly is music therapy?
- When should you initiate a music therapy assessment?
- What is the assessment process for music therapy?
- What determines if a student qualifies for services?

This seminar will include a video demonstration of case studies with local students being provided school-based music therapy services. Time will be allotted for Q&A and discussion.
